

ARE YOU IN?

CLUB continues on and the workshops are better than ever. Don't forget to jot down these dates; you won't want to miss them! Between learning quick fixes, ideas for decorating your rooms, and the tricks of the trade for facials and makeovers, the fall has so much to offer for Older Girls.

LEARN IT, LIVE IT

Would you like to hear some really great news? CLUB workshops can be your door to so many volunteer opportunities, allowing you to give back to the community and enjoy it at the same time. Please contact Reesa Abraham at rabraham@girlscoutsnyc.org for more information every time a CLUB workshop grabs your attention. Challenge yourself to learn it and live it. Now what's stopping you?

CLUB REACH OUT CHALLENGE:

Do you have a friend who is not in the Girls Scouts, but is in dire need of spicing up her life with a CLUB workshop? Sign her up and bring your buddy along!

CLUB dates are subject to change. Please check the Girl Scout Council Web site for the most up-to-date information. Please contact Reesa Abraham at (212) 645-4000 ext. 215 to sign up friends and for more information.

Music Madness

If you are a Girl Scout who can't get on a train or walk to the store without your iPods and MP3 players in your ears, this is the workshop for you. Women have a strong voice in the music industry and NABFEME (National Association of Black Female Executive in Music) wants you to know all about it. If you are an aspiring singer, interested in working in the music industry, or simply like to listen to music, come to this event and get the 411 on females who are in the industry and making it happen.

Date with Design: GS Style

Ever consider adding a tool belt to your accessories? Well, Home Depot is teaming up with the Girl Scouts to teach you all the basics on quick fixes and ideas to make your room the hot spot in your house. If you are thinking about going away to college, this workshop will give you tons of ideas on how to make your dorm room a home away from home. Women are stepping it up and taking charge! It's your time to learn these helpful ways to be more self-sufficient just by knowing how to fix things.

Teen-2-Teen

Have you ever considered what it really takes to be healthy as a young adult? Sometimes it is hard to consider what effects our youthful decisions may have on us as adults. The March of Dimes has a mission to improve the health of babies by preventing birth defects, premature birth and infant mortality. Being in good health now will help when you become mothers. In this workshop, you will learn what teens your age are thinking about these things. It's candid talk from teens about what the March of Dimes mission means to them and about the importance of adopting healthy, responsible lifestyles for themselves and for their future babies. Visit marchofdimes.com/youth for more information about this organization.

Simply Chic

Are looking for something to do with your sister Girl Scouts that's new and dynamic, with a little bit of glam? Well then this CLUB date is perfect for you!! We are teaming up with GlamourGals, an organization that helps girls your age connect with elderly women in their neighborhoods all around the country. Girls will learn the skills it takes to provide facials and makeovers and then will put those new skills to work at a nursing home or elderly facility. Please log onto www.glamourgals.org for additional information. This workshop will count as the Service Project required for the Generations Hand in Hand Interest Project.

To register, fill out the form below and mail, with the small payment of $5 per workshop, to: GSCGNY attn: Program Department 43 West 23rd Street, 7th Floor New York, NY 10010. Please send a check or money order made out to GSCGNY. Do not send cash! All CLUB workshop deadlines are two weeks prior to the event date. The most up-to-date information can be found on www.girlscoutsnyc.org.
